BEAUTIFUL UPON THE MOUNTAINS

When David was a baby his parents came to Utah. They settled finally in Midway where David grew up. He was very active in assisting to fight the Indians, and was known as an excellent marksman. He was a veteran of the Black Hawk War.

After his marriage David resided in Midway and worked with his father in the timber and saw mill business. In 1889 he assisted his father in moving the sawmill to Ashley Valley. David resided permanently there, where they made trips from Ashley Valley to Heber City on snow shoes in the winter time to obtain supplies. Many times he had to race from wolf packs through the Strawberry Valley.

While still a young man, David died from pneumonia.

Abigail was very active in community life, serving both as a teacher and a m. Utah with her parents in 1855. Midway. After the death of her husband she was very active as a nurse and midwife.
